6. Vidarr Feilan - New Name

Unfortunately this name conflicts with Vikarr Feilan registered through Atenveldt in July, 2006. The two names differ by only a single interior consonant in both appearance and sound.

7. Vidarr Feilan - New Device

Per chevron azure and sable, a chevron between two wolves passant to sinister and a star of David argent. Unfortunately this device conflicts with Conflicts with the device of Wulfgar of East Anglia (reg. Feb 1991 via Meridies), Per chevron azure and sable, a chevron between two crosses formy fitch'd at the foot and a wolf's head erased close argent. There's a DC for type of secondary charge group, but nothing for orientation for the charges in chief, since the crosses in Wulfgar's device are symmetrical. It was noted that the Star of David needs to be less stylized to be recognizable as that charge.

8. Marion Compton - New Device

Vert, a rose argent, on a bordure inverted ermine, three annulets Or.

This device was returned do to the annulets have poor contrast with the bordure they're on, (metal on metal). It was noted in the discussion that "It would appear that, if the annulets were changed to a tincture that offered good contrast with the ermine bordure such as vert or gules, there would at this time be no really obvious conflicts.

9. Kaaren Valravn -New Name

Unfortunately this name must be return for lack of documentation supporting the first name spelling of the double/ “aa” . The documentation supporting the name Kaaren is from Hanks and Hodges, which is on the official do not use appendix in the Administrative Handbook. The name was pended for further search documentation on the spelling, but none was found . It was noted in the discussion that Karen could be documented as usable period name.
